

Is Sustainability part of your Future?

Pashek's Green Roof

At Pashek Associates we look to the future and strive to incorporate Smart Growth and Sustainability principles into our work, workplace and other activities. For example:

- Achieving LEED Accreditation

The U.S. Green Building Council has recently granted LEED accreditation to Nancy Lonnett Roman, director of our Site Design Studio.

- Educating the Next Generation

At Penn State University we endow a scholarship for landscape architecture students, knowing the future is in their hands.

- Blending the Future with the Past

A green roof—part practical, part lab for our work—now tops our renovated late 18th Century office building.
